Archaeological Institute of America Lecturer & Host

Gabriela Cervantes-Quequezana (Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh) is a Peruvian anthropological archaeologist. She has done extensive field research through survey and excavations in several regions of Peru, including the north, south, coast, and highlands. Gabriela is the director of the Chira Archaeological Project, which investigates local north coast societies like Tallán and the impact that expanding states such as Sicán and empires such as Chimú and Inka had on local communities. She researches ancient demographic patterns, political integration, monumental and domestic architecture, craft production of ceramics and metals, gender dynamics and women in ancient societies, economic inequality in the archaeological record, and more. Gabriela has led AIA tours of Peru twice since 2023, and looks forward to leading two more in 2025. Through illustrated lectures and informal discussions, she will provide an understanding of the numerous ancient Peruvian societies whose sites we visit, and the complex processes of adaption they each made in the many different ecological regions of Peru.

The Sacred Valley (as seen from the Sun Temple in Pisac)

B= Breakfast • L= Lunch • D= Dinner

Monday, October 6, 2025: Fly to Lima, Peru

Depart home on flights to Peru. Upon arrival at Lima's Jorge Chávez International Airport (LIM), you will be met at the airport and transferred as a group (time TBD) to our hotel. Dinner is on your own tonight. Two nights at the 5-star AC Hotel Miraflores.

Tuesday, October 7: Lima: Amano Pre-Columbian Textile Museum, Larco Museum | Welcome dinner

Gather for a private breakfast and introductory meeting at the hotel with your AIA lecturer and your tour manager. We then depart for the splendid Amano Pre-Columbian Textile Museum followed by a visit to the Larco Museum, which contains a wonderful collection of pre-Hispanic pottery, including a behind-the-scenes tour of the Museum's storerooms. After lunch at the Museum's café we return to our hotel. We gather this evening for a welcome dinner hosted by your lecturer. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, October 8: Lima: Huaca Pucllana pyramid, Historic center | Fly to Trujillo

This morning we visit the Huaca Pucllana archaeological site, a huge adobe and clay pyramid located in the Miraflores district near our hotel. After lunch we take a walking tour in Lima's historic colonial center, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and visit the 17th-century San Francisco Church's convent and its catacombs. Transfer to the airport for our flight to Trujillo. Upon arrival, we drive the short distance to our hotel, check-in, and then gather for dinner at the hotel. Two nights at the 4-star Wyndham Costa del Sol Trujillo. (B,L,D)

Thursday, October 9: Huacas del Sol/de la Luna | Chan Chan | Trujillo

Today we visit two of the most important archaeological sites in northern coastal Peru, both of which were the centers of their respective cultures. First visit the Huacas del Sol/de la Luna (Pyramids of the Sun and Moon) complex, which was the most sacred center of the Moche culture, occupied from around the time of Christ until about A.D. 600. After a visit to the site museum and lunch at a beachfront restaurant, we visit the ruins of Chan Chan, once the capital city of the Kingdom of Chimor and today a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The huge archaeological site is dominated by several large ciudadelas (royal compounds) surrounded by high walls. Chan Chan covers several square miles and may have been home to more than 30,000 people – perhaps the largest pre-Hispanic site in all of Peru prior to its 15th-century conquest by the Incas. Return to Trujillo, where dinner is on your own. (B,L)

“This trip provided me with the opportunity to be amazed by the monuments, art and history of ancient Peru. The trip had a hectic pace both in terms of physical exercise and also in terms of the amount of information we received, but we always had the opportunity to relax and enjoy the comfort of the hotels.”

Friday, October 10: Huaca Cao Viejo | Chiclayo

This morning we drive north to Chiclayo, making several interesting stops along the way. First, visit Huaca Cao Viejo, another Moche period ceremonial center. One of the site museum's highlights is the tomb of the Señora de Cao, the highest status female burial ever found in Peru. After touring the museum, walk a few hundred feet to visit the actual Moche pyramid. From the top, we can view several other Moche pyramids as well as the famous Huaca Prieta, a nearby pre-ceramic midden (refuse heap) excavated in the 1940s. After lunch, we continue driving north to our hotel in Chiclayo. Settle in and then gather for dinner. Three nights at the 4-star Casa Andina Select Chiclayo. (B,L,D)

"Sipán is the most amazing site, the museum is simply spectacular, the visitors can understand the Moche culture very deeply."

- Maria, Mexico

Saturday, October 11: Sicán Museum | Pomac Forest Historical Sanctuary | Túcume Pyramids | Chiclayo

Begin with a visit to the Sicán Museum, which focuses on the Sicán culture that dominated this region between the end of the Moche culture and the Chimú conquest of the Chiclayo area. Sicán culture is especially famous for its golden funerary masks and ceremonial knives (tumi) that we see at the museum. We head north to the Pomac Forest Historical Sanctuary, where Sicán city is located and your AIA lecturer works. We will see some of the Forest's 36 pyramids (huacas), which produced the tombs of the lords of Sicán that we saw earlier at the museum. The Pomac dry forest is a special ecosystem and the largest dry forest in Peru. After lunch we visit Túcume, where there are more than twenty huacas built by the Lambayeque culture. We return to Chiclayo, where dinner is on your own. (B,L)

Sunday, October 12: Lambayeque: Museum of the Royal Tombs of Sipán | Sipán | Chiclayo

Drive to the town of Lambayeque to tour the fantastic Museum of the Royal Tombs of Sipán, which houses much of the material discovered during the first years of excavation at the site of Sipán (Huaca Rajada). Archaeologist Walter Alva's excavation of the tomb of the Lord of Sipán in 1987 was one of the greatest archaeological discoveries of the 20th century. After lunch at a local restaurant, we drive to the actual site of Sipán, where we climb the huacas and put into context what we saw this morning, and then tour the site museum, where the results of the most recent excavations are displayed. Return to Chiclayo and gather this evening for dinner at a local restaurant. (B,L,D)

Monday, October 13: Fly to Cusco | Urubamba

This morning we transfer to the Chiclayo airport for our flight to Cusco, via Lima. Upon arrival, we enjoy lunch and then drive down into the Sacred Valley to our fabulous hotel. Enjoy the hotel's property and amenities before gathering for dinner. Three nights at the 5-star Aranwa Sacred Valley Hotel and Wellness. (B,L,D)

Tuesday, October 14: Moray | Maras | Chinchero | Urubamba

Today we head into the hills above the Sacred Valley, stopping first at the archaeological site of Moray, where we find a series of circular terraces whose purpose has been the subject of much debate by archaeologists over the years. Our next stop is at the salt mines at Maras, which have been in use since pre-Hispanic times, where we learn how salt was produced in pre-Industrial times. Continue to the traditional weaving center of Chinchero, where we meet the center's founder, Nilda Callañaupa; see demonstrations of traditional weaving; and have a typical Cusqueño lunch hosted by Nilda. Return to Urubamba, where dinner is at our hotel. (B,L,D)

Wednesday, October 15: Pisac | Farm-to-table lunch | Ollantaytambo | Urubamba

As we make our way to the Sacred Valley we stop in the quaint town of Pisac, famous for its artisan markets, where we can find extraordinarily fine jewelry, ceramic, and textile craftwork. In the hills above the town, we visit the archaeological park of Pisac, which was most likely a royal estate of the Inca ruler Pachacutec. Continue on to Hacienda Sarapampa, where we learn how they farm in a sustainable manner and about the culture of the production of Giant White Cusco corn, a unique variety that only grows in this valley. Here we will enjoy a four-course, farm-to-table lunch. Afterward, we make our way to the town of Ollantaytambo and visit its Inca temple/fortress. Many of the town's houses date to the Inca period and are still occupied by local families. Return to our hotel and gather for dinner. (B,L,D)

Thursday, October 16: Train to Machu Picchu Pueblo | Machu Picchu

This morning we drive to Ollantaytambo and take the Vistadome train to Machu Picchu Pueblo, where our hotel is only a short walk from the train station. After lunch at our hotel, take a short walk to the shuttle bus for legendary Machu Picchu, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Spend the afternoon exploring the most important parts of the site, until it closes. (Note that most visitors leave by early afternoon, to catch the train back to Cusco, so in the late afternoon we can enjoy the site with relative peace and quiet.) Return via shuttle bus to Machu Picchu Pueblo, and then gather for dinner at our hotel. Two nights at the 5-star Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel. (B,L,D)

Friday, October 17: Machu Picchu | PM at leisure

After breakfast we will take a short walk to the bus station of Machu Picchu Pueblo, to board the shuttle bus that will take us back to the sacred citadel of Machu Picchu for a second visit focusing on the most important sectors of this beautiful Inca citadel. Return to our hotel for lunch, and enjoy the afternoon at leisure. Gather this evening for dinner at our hotel. (B,L,D)

Saturday, October 18: AM at leisure | Train to Ollantaytambo | Cusco

Enjoy a morning at leisure, or return to Machu Picchu for independent time at the site. After gathering for lunch, we take the Vistadome train back to Ollantaytambo and drive to Cusco, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Dinner is on your own. Three nights at the 5-star Palacio del Inka. (B,L)

Sunday, October 19: Tipón | Piquillaqta | Andahuaylillas Church | Cusco: PM at leisure

Start the day with a visit to Tipón, an Inca royal estate that is famous for its terraces, stone-lined canals, and fountains. Then visit Piquillaqta, a Middle Horizon center built by people of the Wari (Huari) culture. It is a huge site, with lots of standing walls of houses and storehouses, and it is the only major pre-Inca site near Cusco. Continue on to see the “Sistine Chapel of the Andes,” the extraordinary church of San Pedro Apóstol de Andahuaylillas that was built by the Jesuits in the 16th century over a pre-Columbian huaca. After lunch at a local restaurant, we return to Cusco with the balance of the day and dinner at leisure. (B,L)

Monday, October 20: Cusco: City tour | Sacsayhuaman | Cusco: Casa Concha Museum | Farewell dinner

Start the day with a city tour, beginning at the cathedral on the main plaza (which was, itself, part of the Inca central square). Cusco’s cathedral is considered to be the best repository of colonial art in Peru. Continue on to the Qoricancha (“Temple of the Sun”), which was the most sacred space in Inca Cusco. The Dominicans built their church atop the Qoricancha, and an earthquake in 1950 destroyed portions of that church, uncovering the Inca walls we see today. Then we drive to Sacsayhuaman, an Inca fortress in the hills overlooking the city. Its size and scope are amazing, particularly the huge stones (many weighing dozens of tons) that were used to build its walls. After a gourmet picnic lunch near Sacsayhuaman, we return to Cusco to visit the Casa Concha Museum, housing hundreds of artifacts from the 1912 excavations at Machu Picchu. We return to our hotel and gather this evening for our farewell dinner. (B,L,D)

Tuesday, October 21: Fly to Lima | Fly home

Transfer to the Cusco airport in time for our group flight to Lima (LIM), connecting to independent flights homeward. (B)

“Gabby, our lecturer, was very informative. Her lectures were well organized and really helped me understand what we had seen. And she was a pleasant member of the group.” - Phillip, Missouri

What to Expect

ACTIVE: Must be able to walk three or more miles per day on mostly uneven terrain, and up and down inclines and steps.

You must be in good physical health to participate in this program. All participants are expected to be physically active and not be an impediment to others on excursions, to enjoy traveling as part of a group, and to be ready to experience cultural differences. Some sites require strenuous and/or brisk walking or climbing, sometimes with difficult footing, and/or steep, uneven, stone steps. This itinerary features a significant amount of walking, and to reap the full rewards of this adventure travelers must be able to walk extended periods, unassisted, keeping up with fellow travelers. Participants who are not able to stand and walk unassisted for extended periods are kindly advised not to join this tour. All participants will be required to follow safety/sanitization protocols set forth by Sponsors/Operator, local staff, and host country laws. Any participant showing signs of illness will be asked to wear a mask when in close proximity to others. If the tour manager decides that a participant cannot visit a site safely or in a timely manner, their judgment will be final. Where possible, an alternate activity may be suggested; additional costs may apply. If you have any questions about your ability to participate, we suggest that you visit your personal physician with this brochure in hand and discuss whether or not this program is appropriate for you.

The high altitude of Cusco (11,150 feet) could cause problems for travelers with certain health conditions. Average temperatures in October range from the mid- to upper 60s F during the day to the mid-40s F at night. Complete pre-departure details will be sent to participants.
